Project Title: The Office (American TV series)

Introduction - Brief summary of the series, small facts about the show like seasons, where to watch, genre and start/end. A nav bar will be placed on the top of the screen with all of my sections.

Cast/Characters - I would include pictures of the cast with their character names. I might make the pictures clickable which would open up another page that gives more information about the character.

Seasons - I might do a page for each season. There I could highlight some key points for each season. Maybe include a video with funny clips.

Awards/Critical reviews - Here I would include the accolades and awards the show has one. I would also include critical reviews.

Cultural influence - Here I would include how the show has impacted places around the world. I would also include information about their recreated set.
